

Russia Accepts Bid To Big Four Meeting

Claims U.S. Preconditions Will Ruin It

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union agreed formally Thursday to a top-level meeting of the Big Four. But it said the United States' attitude toward the summit meeting threatens to worsen rather than improve international relations.

Notes handed the Western ambassadors — with special sections directed only to Britain and France — indicated the U.S.S.R. would object violently to any attempt to discuss the status of the Communist countries in Eastern Europe.

Moscow suggested Vienna as the most convenient place, with the time to be negotiated by the four powers. French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay has mentioned July 18-21. The Western powers take the stand that Vienna is unsatisfactory so long as occupation troops remain in Austria, and want the meeting held in Switzerland or Sweden.

The Soviet note apparently envisioned a conference of President Eisenhower, Premier Bulganin and the British and French premiers on broad generalities. It said the meeting should aim at "the lessening of international tension and the strengthening of confidence among nations."

But, the Russians added, declarations by United States officials reflect "a desire to exert inadmissible pressure on the conference" and to discredit the idea of a conference in advance. The note asserted:

"They said officials went so far as to mention the necessity of interference in the internal affairs of other states, making attacks on the People's Democracies (East European Communist states) which are defending the freedom of their people."

"It is quite clear that such attempts at interference, which are incompatible with the United Nations charter, should be rejected as exposing the aggressive plans of certain circles aiming at the further intensification of the arms race and increasing international tension."

In his May 18 television report Secretary of State Dulles said the conference might set up some new processes toward a solution of problems such as reunification of Germany, limitation of armaments, atomic weapons, "the problem of the satellite countries, the problem created by the international communism which is such a pest all around the world."

In the asides to Britain and France—paragraphs which did not appear in the note to Washington—the Soviet Union sought support against American views. It told London and Paris:

"The Soviet government believes France and Great Britain hardly agree that the above-mentioned declarations of leading officials of the United States contribute to an appropriate atmosphere for a conference of four powers."

Andrews Sisters Recovering From Separation Nicely

CHICAGO (AP)—The tiny Andrews sisters, only head-joined Siamese twins to survive a separation operation, are recovering nicely.

Mercy Hospital released the first photographs of the girls Thursday and disclosed that the larger twin, Deborah Marie, will be going home to her parents "soon."

The smaller twin, Christine Mary, also is recovering well, but will require further plastic surgery to provide an entire skin cover for the top of her head.

The girls, who will be 8 months old June 1, were separated in a 3½-hour operation at Mercy Hospital April 21.

Wears Victory Smile

Sir Anthony Eden

Eden's Conservative Party Wins Smashing Victory Over Laborites

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden and the Conservative party scored a smashing victory in Thursday's election.

They won a new five-year term with an indicated House of Commons majority of 50 or more seats, against the scant 17-seat margin they had in the last Parliament.

Morgan Phillips, secretary of the opposition Labor party, conceded the party's defeat at 3:15 a.m. Friday.

The voters dealt a severe blow to Clement Attlee's Labor forces, who won the popular vote in the 1951 election but lost out in the tabulation of House of Commons seats. This time the Conservatives ran ahead in popular vote, as well.

The result is a vote of confidence for Eden on the eve of four-power talks, where he will represent Britain.

The electors plumped for free enterprise Conservatism and rejected the Labor party call for another whirl at state socialism.

When counting stopped for the night the Conservatives had scored a net gain of 10 House of Commons seats, with good prospects of winning up to 350 seats, against the 177 seats of the Laborites.

Levy suffered another in a series of heart attacks after testifying in person before the committee Wednesday, so a committee aide read portions of his diary and earlier testimony at an open hearing Thursday. The highlights were statements by Levy that:

1. He was told by Marvin Rubin, a business getter for Levy's firm, that Wool "got $50,000" for helping swing a 1953 contract for seven million sailor hats to Chicagoan Harry Levy. Wool, formerly in charge of armed services clothing procurement in New York, now is stationed at Shelby, Ohio.

2. Wool was "together like that" with Mrs. Melia Hort, his secretary in 1953, but "he threw her off and he got another girl"—an actress, Mrs. Hort, a sultry-looking brunette, testified in the inquiry Wednesday and acknowledged there were some things she didn't want to be questioned about.

3. Mrs. Hort was "burning all of the way through" at Wool for jilting her and at Levy because, as Levy put it, she was trying to shake down the Chicagoan for $15,000 but he would give her only "a couple of thousands" plus two expensive suits.

Mrs. Hort's version: Levy brought her two $150 suits as a personal gift and gave her husband $2,000 to set up a chemical manufacturing business which never materialized. She angrily denied any "black-mail" attempt.

"FATHER OF YEAR" — NEW YORK (AP) — Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, was named "Father of the Year" Thursday by the National Father's Day committee.

15 Die As Bomber Hits Tornado, Crashes In Flames

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — A giant B36 bomber plowed into a tornado — spawning thunderstorm Wednesday night, lost four jet engines and crashed in flames, killing 15.

There were no survivors. Walker Air Force Base at Roswell, N. M., said the 10-engine plane was on a routine training flight.

A cowboy watched the big plane hurtle earthward burning during violent hail and rain. It hit in rugged ranch country 60 miles west of this west Texas sheep ranching center, then was ripped by two explosions that scattered wreckage over eight acres.

Charlie Davis, 21, said the plane was on fire on one side when it crashed.

The four jet engines of the bomber were found 10 miles from Sterling City, Tex., about 25 miles from where the plane hit.

A spokesman at Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth said you couldn't jettison the jet engines during an emergency, but could cut them out and fly on the six piston-type engines.

The San Angelo Weather Bureau reported a violent storm in the area about the time the plane crashed. It said the weather may have been a direct cause of the crash.

WALKER AIR FORCE BASE, N. M. (AP)—Walker Air Force Thursday released a list of men aboard the B36 which crashed in West Texas, with their hometowns and next of kin. They included:

Capt. Ernest R. Morton, 31, radio operator, Box 176, Winthrop Harbor, Ill. Widow—Mrs. Mae I. Morton.

Capt. Arthur R. Fred, 26, navigator, Waltonville, Ill. Widow—Mrs. Sarah Ann Fred.

U.S. Glad To Note Soviet Acceptance Of Bid To Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States said Thursday it "is glad to note" that the Russians are willing to meet in a top-level Big Four conference. It refused to get into a quarrel invited by Moscow.

Earlier Thursday, Russia accepted the invitation to a Big Four parley but said the United States was setting up preconditions "which will doom the conference to failure."

These conditions that irked the Russians were suggestions that the meeting of President Eisenhower with the heads of the French, British and Russian governments might discuss the future of Soviet puppet states in Eastern Europe.

In a statement written by Secretary of State Dulles and relayed by press officer Henry Snydam, the State Department ignored the Russians' beforehand complaint, and said:

"The United States is glad to note that the Soviet government expresses its agreement to the proposal of the governments of France, Great Britain and the United States for an early meeting of the heads of the governments of the four powers with the participation of the ministers of foreign affairs."

"The United States will cooperate in an effort to reach prompt quadripartite agreement on such details as time and place."

"The United States is also glad to note that the Soviet Union agrees that the heads of government would themselves determine the range of questions to be discussed and also determine ways of settling these questions and to this end gave appropriate instructions to their ministers of foreign affairs."

Chicago Monday. The girl was with a man friend of the family. When they got to Danville, the man complained that the lights of approaching cars bothered him. He pulled his car to the side of the road, told the girl he once had been in a mental institution and went for a walk.

The girl, frightened, found an old hat and newspapers in the back of the car and dashed off the note. The man returned to the car, the girl screamed and they drove off.

The mother reported the girl reached Chicago unharmed. The mother said she and her husband were taking the girl back to Evansville. She said she was calling from the Central Park area. Officials established a road block in that area in a move to stop the Evansville — bound auto. But they found no trace of the mystery girl and her unnamed parents.

Today the woman caller told Deputy Young she could "clear this whole thing up" and gave this account:

She—the caller—is the mother of the girl who wrote the note. The daughter, who lives in Evansville, started for the mother's home in

103 Die In Tornadoes: Strong Winds Lash State

Several Injured, No Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seventy-mile-an-hour winds and driving rain lashed a dozen Illinois cities Thursday, ripping up trees, crumbling houses and toppling power lines.

Property damage was expected to total many hundreds of thousands of dollars. Insurance underwriters in Springfield said damage in the state capital alone would run several hundred thousand dollars. Several persons were injured but no deaths were reported.

The storm was a squall line which skipped across the state from the Mississippi River on the southeast through Jacksonville, Carlinville, Carrollton, Springfield, Manteno, La Salle, Peoria, Pekin, Joliet, Chicago and several other cities and then blew out into Lake Michigan.

The winds and the worst of the rain lasted only 10 to 15 minutes in most localities. The Chicago Weather Bureau said that the winds which hit most of the state were part of the squall, although they were so severe many residents called them tornadoes.

The Weather Bureau at Peoria said the storm spawned a small tornado which cut a mile long swath through a residential district in Pekin, 10 miles south of Peoria.

Although more rain and thunderstorms were expected during the night, the Weather Bureau said the squall line had passed out of the state and the danger of tornadoes in Illinois had ceased.

The storm did severe damage to houses, unroofing some of them, and smashed garages, trees and utility poles in its 12-block path through Pekin, but only one man was injured there.

In Pekin, violent winds spun around a car, pitched its driver, Mrs. Helen Underwood, out into the street. Mrs. Underwood was not hurt.

Authorities estimated it would take two days to repair tangled power lines and telephone wires in Pekin.

Eight persons were injured in Springfield but most of them were released from hospitals after being treated for cuts and bruises. A 77-year-old woman was hospitalized for observation after she was blown off her feet into a chump.

Consider Making New Harmony Toll Bridge Free

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The Indiana highway Commission agreed Thursday to conduct a joint inspection with Illinois highway officials of the Wabash River toll bridge at New Harmony as the first step toward making it a free bridge.

The agreement came out of an hour-long conference with the White County, Ill., Bridge Commission, which now operates the bridge.

The action came only one day after a probe of the Illinois group and its operation of the bridge was voted in Congress.

The House, acting on a resolution by Rep. Denton (D-Ind.), ordered the General Accounting Office to audit the bridge commission's financial records.

Second Episode In Mystery Of Hat With Plea For Help

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Chapter 2 of a mystery story revolving around a hat and a plea for help was unfolded today.

It was, in fact, telephoned to Dep. Sheriff George Young by an anonymous woman.

Chapter 1 began Monday night, when sheriff's deputies found the following on a road in the Central Park section south of Danville:

A note scrawled on a piece of an Evansville, Ind., newspaper and pinned on a large gray hat. The note read: "Help — in car with crazy man—on way to Chi—red car—Ind. L."

Today the woman caller told Deputy Young she could "clear this whole thing up" and gave this account:

CONSIDER VACCINE PROBLEMS — The House Commerce Committee began hearings on legislation calling for Federal controls on the Salk anti-polio vaccine. Conferring before the hearing are, left to right: Roswell Perkins, Asst. Sec. of Health Education and Welfare who read a statement from Secretary Hobby; Dr. Scheele and committee chairman Percy Priest of Tennessee.

Five Drug Companies Accept New U.S. Rules For Making Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five of the six drug companies licensed to make Salk polio vaccine fell in line Thursday with the government's new rules for manufacturing and testing it.

Their acceptance of the revised standards improved prospects for resumption of the nationwide campaign to immunize millions of school children against infantile paralysis. However, the time of the resumption is uncertain.

Dr. Jonas Salk declared, "the picture is most hopeful." Salk, the University of Pittsburgh scientist who developed the vaccine, said he was unable to say how soon the nationwide program to immunize school children against infantile paralysis would be resumed.

But he added the "fog is lifting" on the whole vaccine situation.

UAW Rejects Ford Offer Of Benefits As 'Phony' Plan

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. Thursday offered its 140,000 union employees an opportunity to buy company stock controlling the Ford family for half a century. But the CIO United Auto Workers, demanding a guaranteed annual wage, promptly rejected the offer.

The union called the Ford counterproposal "unfair, unjust and unacceptable" and said it fails to provide workers protection against the insecurity of unemployment.

Ford also offered a number of other benefits, all tied to union acceptance of another five-year contract.

Said the union: "It is a phony plan which by the Ford Motor Co.'s own admission is a resurrection of an inadequate and antiquated plan which General Motors had in effect in 1939 and had to scrap because it was unworkable and impracticable."

The union's rejection came only two hours after Ford placed the counterproposal on the contract bargaining table. The UAW's bitter response marked the first public dispute since the auto industry's significant labor negotiations began last month.

President Asks $12,650,000 For A-Powered Ship

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress for $12,650,000 Thursday to start work on his 33-million-dollar atomic-powered merchant ship which has been criticized by some Congress members as a "showboat."

The funds for getting the project under way were included in a $139,334,014 request for supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The White House said all of the additional appropriations had been specifically forecast in the President's budget "or are covered by the general reserve for contingencies," and therefore would not result in any increase in expenditures or new obligatory authority for the year.

Of the $12,650,000 for the atomic-powered merchant ship, the White House statement said:

"This appropriation is needed by the Maritime Administration for the design and construction of the hull, crew training, and administration of its part of the program."

More Than 700 Hurt In Four State Area

UDALL, Kan. (AP) — Tornadoes that lashed and swirled across five states have killed at least 103 persons in two days and Thursday night the voracious twisters still were poised over the Midwest.

In addition to the dead, more than 700 were injured and millions of dollars worth of property was destroyed.

The focal point of the far-flung storm was this little town of 500, devastated by the fury of an early-morning funnel that killed 62 persons, many of whom were sleeping when the tornado struck without warning. More than 200 others were injured and taken to hospitals and relief centers.

Eighty miles south of here a tornado demolished a 36-square-block residential and factory area in Blackwell, Okla., killing 18 persons and injuring more than 500.

The twisting winds brought death to 67 in Kansas, 20 in Oklahoma, 15 in Texas and 14 in Missouri. Tornadoes struck Jessville, Ark., and Watkins, Kan., tonight but no one was killed.

In this little town only four buildings were left standing and rescue workers still were looking for casualties. A report in Wichita said eight more bodies had been found here but this could not be verified.

Mortuaries in Winfield and Wichita had received 62 bodies and only 41 had been identified.

Most of the damage was done Wednesday night. Early Thursday the twisters began popping again and Missouri counted its first fatality when a farmer was crushed to death in his barn near Paris in the northeast section of the state. Other Missouri areas reporting tornado damage but no casualties.

U.S. Increases Production Rate Of B52 Bombers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spurred by Russia's growing air power, the U. S. Air Force Thursday announced a 35 per cent step-up in the production rate of B52 bombers.

These are the new all-jet, long-range bombers, designed to carry atomic or hydrogen bombs to almost any point on the globe.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), a former secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, called the decision to speed up production of the big bombers "a recognition of the fact that Soviet air power is considerably greater than has been recognized in the past."

Air Force Secretary Talbot said the Boeing Aircraft Co.'s B52 production lines at both Seattle, Wash., and Wichita, Kan., "will be boosted approximately 35 per cent above the present program."

"This acceleration will permit the Air Force to complete the replacement of B36s in its heavy bombardment and strategic reconnaissance wings well ahead of the present schedule," he said.

While production figures are secret, it was understood the B52 program now calls for a total of about 500 of the new bombers. They cost about eight million dollars apiece when turned out in quantity.

Editorial Comment

BEHIND RUSSIA'S 'NATO'

It would be wrong to underestimate Russia's recent action in setting up a sort of "eastern NATO" formally drawing together the satellite nations in military alliance.

Admittedly, for all practical purposes this compulsory association under Soviet domination has existed for a long time. But there would appear to be advantages in having it out in the open.

With the veil of pretense dropped, the satellite armies could be considerably enlarged. Bigger airfields and other supporting facilities can be built—closer to Western targets.

Furthermore, under such a formal arrangement, the Soviet government presumably would have a legal excuse for keeping its own armed forces on satellite soil indefinitely.

Those troops are supposed to get out when the Russians evacuate Austria under the peace treaty terms. Their presence was justified only on ground they were necessary to keep open the military supply lines to Austria.

The new Warsaw defense pact, however, would seem to sanction continued Soviet occupation and even allow the moving of Soviet forces to more advanced positions in the satellites than they now occupy.

It is no secret that the satellites are difficult to control by mere political means. The presence of Soviet armies, serving in "friendly alliance," will surely act as a damper on any developing unrest.

The existence of a formal treaty with the satellites also gives Moscow a new bargaining point in any big power discussions aimed at easing European tensions.

The Kremlin can urge the scrapping of NATO, and promise in return that it will scrap the Warsaw pact. Up to now it could not make such a balancing offer, since it could hardly promise to cancel a military arrangement which it was pretending did not exist.

There is really no chance of the West accepting such a deal, inasmuch as it would be an utter fraud. Without the Warsaw agreement, the Russians simply would revert to the same sort of thinly disguised military management of the satellites which existed previously.

But it must be realized that to neutralists in Europe and beyond, the proposal of a straight-out trade—"you cancel your defense pact and we'll cancel ours"—would have a powerful appeal. It would give an air of reasonableness to Soviet peace maneuvers.

So, clearly, we cannot fairly dismiss the Warsaw pact with an indifferent shrug. It is one more bold, fresh effort on the Kremlin's part to recoup the loss it suffered in Europe when West Germany joined NATO under agreements authorizing its rearmament. For the West thereby solidified its strength, and pushed the Soviet Union into a wholly new source of strategy.

What the West must never forget is that the new strategy is aimed at the same old goal—global conquest.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Anybody can be an unsuccessful author.

All you have to do is sit down and write a book.

If nobody publishes it, you are automatically unsuccessful. And if somebody does publish it, the odds are at least 99-1 you still will be an unsuccessful author.

Successful authors are as rare as successful inventors. Whether successful or not, actual authors tend to be melancholy, dyspeptic individuals ridden with a feeling of persecution. They are sure their publishers are scoundrels, and that the entire world is linked in a gigantic conspiracy to drop their latest book down a deep dark well of silence.

The real way to win happiness in the literary field is to become an expectant author—and remain one. An expectant author is one who has a book in mind, or partly under way, but never quite gets around to finishing it. He has all the pleasures of authorship, but suffers none of its pangs or penalties.

I have been an expectant author for 20 years now, and can't think of a more satisfying hobby. It brings you much more prestige and personal satisfaction than if you actually did bring out a book.

The most wounding question an actual author hears—and he hears it all the time—is the blunt demand, "How is your book doing—how many copies has it sold?" This is like asking a proud young mother how many teeth her baby has when it still has none at all.

An expectant author writhes under no such torture. His brainchild never has to suffer the insulting verdict of the market place.

The safest subject to talk about when you are merely a potential author is book titles. Every author has trouble with titles.

"Don't know quite what to call my little opus," you say, offhand. "I rather lean to 'The Hill of Ecstasy,' but I suppose it will probably end up 'Joy Swamp.'"

But conversation at a literary tea can sometimes get you in a ditch. During one such gathering someone asked me what I was working on, and on the spur of the moment I answered airily:

"Oh, I'm toying around with a little volume on self-improvement. I think I'll call it 'How To Be a Man in a Woman's World.'"

"Sounds good," said a publisher. "Let me have first look at it, will you?"

Well I had the very devil of a time getting rid of that publisher. He kept hounding me for months to deliver the book.

That's the biggest danger an expectant author meets—a publisher who actually wants him to sit down and write a book. This is a temptation it is necessary to fight down manfully, or your whole way of life will be ruined.

If you want to stay a happy, cheerful, well-balanced expectant author you have to make up your mind firmly to take the credit—and let the cash go. Publish a book and you merely become another one of the herd.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—A year ago Secretary of Defense Wilson said he thought the Russians were building a "defensive" air force. If that was right the United States, which had been building long-range bombers that could attack Russia, seemed safe.

But now comes word from Wilson that the Russians have made enormous strides in building long-range bombers which could be used to attack targets far from Russia. Did this mean the Russians were ahead of this country? At once a dispute began; one word led to another. This is it:

May 12—Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), who was secretary of the Air Force under President Truman, said the country's military program "is menaced by a deliberate policy on the part of the government" of withholding information.

May 13—The Pentagon issued an announcement, with White House approval and based on an analysis of Air Force intelligence reports made after the Russians flew a group of planes over Moscow recently.

The statement said the Russians were cutting into this country's lead in the production of heavy, long-range and medium jet bombers.

May 17—Symington said Wilson had underestimated Soviet air strength. He said the United States, "along with the rest of the free world," may have lost control of the air.

May 18—President Eisenhower told a news conference "it is just not true" that this country "has lost in a twinkling all of this great technical development and technical knowledge as well as the numbers in our total aircraft."

May 18—That same day, in Detroit, Brig. Gen. Woodbury M. Burgess, deputy chief of staff for intelligence of the Continental Air Defense Command, was quoted by newsmen as saying, "The Russian air force is currently at least as good as ours, possibly better."

May 19—Burgess said he had been misled. Newsmen who heard him stuck to their stories. Burgess already had been publicly rebuked by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, who said Burgess had not told the truth and had exaggerated.

May 19—The same day as Burgess' denial, Secretary of the Air Force Talbot said this country's air power was greater than Russia's. But he acknowledged surprise at Russia's progress and said, "It makes us sit back and take notice."

May 20—An Air Force officer, Lt. Gen. Thomas S. Power, toned down a prepared speech saying the Soviets have "resources in manpower and materiel we could not possibly match" and that the Russians have the world's largest air force.

May 20—Twining acknowledged the Russians are building a mighty bomber force which "could attack us."

May 22—Aviation Week magazine said the Russians had displayed over Moscow this month aircraft so advanced and so numerous it has shocked "even the top-level and the most knowledgeable military aviation leaders in the Pentagon."

May 24—Tuesday Wilson read a formal statement to newsmen. It said this country is maintaining a "military capability superior" to that of Russia. The Wilson statement was a far cry from the optimistic view of a year ago that the Russians were building a "defensive" air force.

SO THEY SAY

To talk with the Communists on a cease-fire would only be fruitless; worse than that, it would encourage their aggression.

—President Chiang Kai-shek.

What it boils down to is that it will have to be every man for himself. The best way to survive is to be where the (A) bomb isn't.

—John P. Kennedy, Cleveland's civil defense chief.

I don't know what to do with it (her share of million dollars). I'm not interested in it right now. First I want to finish my (nursing) course, and that will be two more years.

—Yvonne Dionne.

The Czech army now is prepared to enter any war with all existing modern weapons. There would be no hope for the West to win. We are not afraid of threats of an atomic war.

—Czech Defense Minister Alexej Cepicka.

Mental Health Among Most Challenging Problems Today

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

It can surely come as no surprise to most readers, particularly in this month of May when the National Association for Mental Health is conducting its annual fund campaign, that mental health disease is one of the most challenging problems which is faced by society today.

There are nearly three quarters of a million people under care in mental hospitals, which is more than half of the patients in all hospitals for all diseases in the entire country.

More than a quarter of a million new patients are admitted to mental hospitals each year.

The mere figures alone are staggering and discouraging but there are two things which we should also know: many patients with mental illness recover, and like other health problems, if we all put our efforts on the problem we should be able to solve it or at least some of it.

PERHAPS, TOO, we should recognize the fact that the term "mental illness" is a general one and that there are many varieties, some of which are mild and temporary although others are serious and long lasting.

Since about 1928 new hope has arisen because of the discovery that some mentally diseased people may be improved by giving them shock treatment.

At first shock was produced by giving large doses of insulin (which is used in the treatment of diabetes). In large doses this insulin causes a type of reaction which doctors call shock.

The mental condition of many of the mental patients who received this shock treatment cleared up. However, certain disadvantages developed from the use of insulin. A substance called metrazol was then tried. This also produced shock.

A FEW YEARS LATER electricity began to be used to give the shock treatments and this too brought about good results in many cases. Now electric shock is probably used "lost off" and although these treatments do not cure all mental patients, they do help in many cases.

People who have friends or relatives whose cases warrant trying shock treatment ought not to expect too much.

It does not always work, but it offers hope to many. Of course, it is not suitable for all and the mental specialist in charge of the individual patient is the only one who can decide whether or not it is worth a trial.

IT CANNOT BE emphasized too often that those who have a mental disease are just as truly ill as are those who have a heart disease, pneumonia, or some other trouble which can be seen or felt.

In the not too distant past those who suffered from mental disease were often kept in chains or solitary confinement, were beaten, and no effort was made to get at the source of the difficulty. Reform finally came in most places and the mentally ill came to be treated more humanely.

With greater knowledge of mental processes brought on by research, it should be possible to improve both preventive measures and treatment.

This has happened with other health problems and there is every reason to expect it for the mental illnesses as well.

Labor Relations Experts Fear More Strikes in '55

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Labor relations experts now fear that the United States may be heading into a season of more strikes.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell has pointed out that last year was a record low. Only 3500 strikes were reported, involving 1,500,000 workers. For each of the two years before, the number of strikes was over 5000, involving 2,500,000 and 3,500,000 workers.

This year is sized up as being more normal—meaning that it is natural to expect there will be more labor disputes.

There was a mild recession or rolling readjustment of some sort or other when jobs are scarce. With business restored, the stock market up and profits booming, the heat is on.

While the union demands will vary from case to case on pay, fringe benefits and working conditions, two major issues, will be found in the background of nearly all collective bargaining. And they are apt to set the pattern for demands in many negotiations still to come.

ONE IS THE GUARANTEED annual wage which the auto workers are demanding in a pioneering effort for other unions. The other is the threat of automation—the new technology of automatic factory assembly which many unions fear will reduce the number of jobs and replace men with machines.

These two factors are in a sense complementary. The employees' approach to the problem of automation has so far been to ask for guaranteed annual wage, greater unemployment benefits and higher minimum wage. This is considered insurance against loss of jobs.

For the employers' part, their solution so far has been a bland and blanket denial that there is anything to fear from automation.

Automation isn't going to be stopped. The unions admit that. The problem is how it can be adopted by an increasing number of industries with a minimum dislocation of the labor force. It calls for a new approach in industrial relations.

No major employer has yet come forward to say in effect: "Yes, automation will cause some employees to lose the jobs they now have. But we are working out a program of job retraining and upgrading, so that employees displaced by new machines will get better work at better pay."

IT IS BELIEVED THAT an approach of this kind might knock much of the wind out of the sails of union leaders who go puffing about the need of "GAW"—guaranteed annual wage.

The U. S. Department of Labor is planning studies to see what can be done in retraining workers for higher skills.

Mitchell has asked Congress for $40,000 to begin these studies. The House has approved it, but the Senate is still considering. It would seem to be little enough for a project of this magnitude and importance.

It is no exaggeration to say this is a second industrial revolution that has to be met. The test of modern society is whether the readjustment can be made without all the hardships of the first industrial revolution, when mechanical looms replaced hand weaving in British mills.

One important parallel development in today's situation must be noted. This is the great shortage of graduate engineers in America. The Thomas Alva Edison Foundation has just concluded a meeting in Washington to stimulate the education of more young scientists.

COMMUNIST PROPAGANDA HAS made a great point that Soviet Russia is now graduating more engineers than the U. S. The threat is that Russian technology may eventually beat out America's industrial superiority if the trend continues.

This presents a challenge to American skilled and semiskilled workers. It is no longer going to be good enough for them to remain in these job classifications. For those not too old to learn, skills will have to be stepped up so that they become something more than just intricate machine operators.

No labor union has yet done anything to meet this new challenge. The old craft unions have their apprentice systems for the training of journeymen. But no union has yet come forward with any incentives for its members to retrain for the good jobs that are going begging at the top.

The unions and the employers may yet find that they have a joint responsibility in meeting this new demand, instead of just fighting.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I see now that I was temperamental. I didn't cooperate with publicity. I didn't want to do cheesecake. If I had it to do over again, I would do it differently."

That was what Jody Lawrence said a few months ago. She was the 24-year-beauty who had slipped from film stardom to being a waitress in an ice cream shop.

Now she has that Hollywood rarity—the second break. She has signed at Paramount for a leading role in "Too Late, My Love." Instead of the $5 a day (including tips) she earned as a waitress, she'll be getting $300 a week under a term contract.

True to her word, she is doing things differently this time. She was happily posing for cheesecake this week. And the results proved that she had nothing to hide. Far from it.

At 19, Jody was starring with Burt Lancaster in "Ten Tall Men." She was considered one of the most promising players on the Columbia lot. But then she was cast opposite Mickey Rooney in a lightweight musical.

Jody balked. The studio released her. After a fruitless contract with Charles Feldman and a few TV mental reputation kept her from acting jobs. She became a waitress.

She had several offers for TV shows, which she was unable to make because she worked nights at the malt parlor.

Then Michael Curtiz happened to see her on a Fireside Theater film she made many months ago. He dropped into the shop to see her.

She got a call the next morning. She read for the part in the Curtiz film three times and won the role.

Smoked Hams And Turkeys Will Be Weekend Specials

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Smoked hams and turkeys will dominate the list of specials in the nation's foodstores for the approaching Memorial Day weekend.

These holiday favorites will be priced below a year ago, meat men report. In general, turkeys will be down a couple of cents a pound. Smoked hams will be available at levels 10 cents a pound or more below those of last Memorial Day. Canned hams also will be lower.

Frying chicken prices will show little change from a week ago.

Sirloin steak prices will be higher in many places, but by and large popular cuts of meat will sell for around the same prices as a week ago.

The American Meat Institute comment is that contrary to the usual pattern, pork continues relatively good supply for this time of year, with retail prices ranging 13 to 31 per cent below those of a year ago.

Both the green and the yellow types of squash offer good value. Asparagus, carrots, beans, celery, escarole, endive, corn and new crop onions also are recommended by the produce specialists.

Girl Can Change Home By Pitching In on Work

A fifteen-year-old girl writes that she is ashamed to bring her friends home because the living room is likely to be in a mess and her mother is sure to be wearing a faded, old housedress or may even be in the housecoat she had on at breakfast.

"I love my mother," she says. "She is good to me and buys me all the pretty clothes she can. But why doesn't she see that I want to be proud of her and my home?"

Have you tried telling her how you feel? Not in so many words—but in actions?

You could, you know, give the living room a good cleaning before you go to bed at night. Or make sure that it is straightened up before you leave for school in the morning.

If your mother comments on your sudden interest in housekeeping, explain that you'd like to bring a friend home from school—and you want the house to look nice.

MOTHER IS PROBABLY OVERWORKED

You don't say how much your mother has to do and maybe you don't even know. Your mother could be overworked, you know, and your helping out would be really appreciated.

As for clothes, you say your mother buys you all she can afford. Maybe the reason you never see her dressed up is because she is buying you more than she can afford, spending money on you she should be spending on herself.

If you decide that is the case, see if you can be unselfish enough to suggest, next time she goes to buy you a dress, that she buy "something to wear around the house" for herself, instead.

These are the ways in which you can let your mother know without finding fault or criticizing her, that how your home and your mother look are important to you.

Manners Make Friends

When you can't accept an invitation, be sure that you let the person who extended it know that you appreciate being asked and that you are sorry that you can't accept.

Explaining why you can't go usually makes your regret seem genuine.

Incurable Disease Kills Second Tot

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—An unusual, incurable disease killed little Susan Hoek Wednesday night, a month after taking her sister's life.

Both were victims of pancreatic cystic fibrosis, the disease which causes the pancreas to function improperly.

This failure, in turn, leads to malnutrition and lower resistance, and the victims succumb to some infection which is the immediate cause of death.

Susan, 23 months old, and Mary Ann, 3, had infections of the lungs. Dr. Carroll Witten said the disease is unusual in one member of a family but "extremely rare" in two members.

Presbyterians Endorse U.N. As Peace Instrument

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Presbyterians have endorsed the United Nations as "an instrument by which sovereign nations can meet together, plan together and act together to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war."

The 167th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America ended Wednesday after also taking stands for universal disarmament and desegregation.

"We warn our churches and church members against malicious attacks on the United Nations on the part of persons and groups whose avowed purpose is 'to get the United States out of the United Nations and the United Nations out of the United States,'" the assembly said.

The assembly declared, "We believe that lasting peace requires the elimination and prohibition of all weapons of mass destruction."

It said that such complete disarmament, however, must be worldwide and a suggestion that the church seek immediate prohibition of any use of nuclear weapons by the United States was defeated.

On the desegregation issue, the assembly declared, "The church must act now to abolish from its own."

The assembly called upon members of the church to work for desegregation in businesses, professions, unions, housing projects, public schools and public positions.

Next year's general assembly will be held in Philadelphia and in 1957 it will be in Omaha, Neb.

Scientists Seek Device To Locate Pesky Ragweed

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Scientists at the University of Michigan are setting up a sort of mathematical radar to locate the pesky summer plant that plagues seven million Americans.

They are using a complex equation that looks like a fugitive from a nuclear laboratory. Their objective: ragweed and hay fever.

As complex as it is (it requires an electronic calculator to work it out), it could provide part of the answer to sweeping city air of ragweed pollen.

Professors E. Wendell Hewson of meteorology and John M. Sheldon of internal medicine say more people come down with hay fever every year.

Seldon and Hewson are working on a project in the university's Engineering Research Institute to gather basic information on the circulation of pollens and other air contaminants.

In a small laboratory on the roof of one of the engineering buildings, Hewson measures how wind direction and velocity and air turbulence affect the scattering of ragweed pollen.

He has worked out equations that can help locate where the weed is growing, so that it can be destroyed. The equation, he says, would also tell whether the ragweed field was a major or minor one.

By measuring the pollen count in the air at many locations, and then entering this information in the equation, coupled with local meteorological data on winds, Hewson believes it is possible to pinpoint the offending growths of ragweed. By measuring points several miles apart, it could locate growths up to 30 or 40 miles away, he says.

Blue Lustre Cited As Answer To Carpet Cleaning Problem

RUG CLEANING SOLVED—This attractive housewife solved her rug cleaning problem by using the new Blue Lustre cleaner. It is a foam cleaner that is described as leaving neither gum nor foreign residue in the pile of the rug or carpet.

Science is reported as providing the answer to the bothersome problem of keeping wall-to-wall carpeting bright and clean.

Blue Lustre, a product perfected after long research, is cited as doing the job better than ever done before, because of being the most outstanding product of its kind yet developed.

A concentrate, Blue Lustre mixes with water to produce a foam that brushes into the carpet. There's no soaking, and the pile doesn't sog or mat, and the result is that it dries open and fluffy. The final result is that the carpet gleams like new.

After the carpet has been cleaned from wall to wall, a new stain or traffic lane can be available at be foamed away safely, as this Blue Lustre leaves no ring.

The foam is applied with a long-handled brush that is used while the user is in a standing position, just like playing shuffleboard. There is no hands-and-knees work required. Also, the original colors spring out like magic as the foam disappears into clean carpets.

Blue Lustre also is gentle and does not harm fine fabrics. It cleans Oriental rugs and overstuffed furniture as efficiently as it cleans carpets.

The product also is inexpensive, as one-half gallon of the concentrate cleans three 9x12 rugs. Blue Lustre is available in quarts, half-gallon and gallon sizes.

After the carpet has been cleaned from wall to wall, a new stain or traffic lane can be available at

PICK YOUR CAR FROM THE HOTTEST-SELLING BUICKS IN HISTORY
There's a Buick to fit every purse and purpose—the bedrock-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-spacious SUPER (illustrated here in the Riviera model), and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

Two months ago, in the public print, we said that this looks like Buick's biggest year—and we weren't fooling.

But what has happened—and continues to happen—is almost beyond belief.

People buy up these stunning new Buicks practically as fast as we get them from the factory. Buick production—already revised upward several times—keeps forging ahead to new highs every month to meet the mounting demand.

And Buick sales keep soaring higher and higher and higher—outstripping by far the phenomenal success of last year—the success that moved Buick into the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.

Local Delivered Price of the 1955 Buick SPECIAL

$2471⁵⁴

2-Door, 6-Passenger Sedan, Model 48 (illustrated) is Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster—$81.70; Radio & Antenna—$92.90.

What is it about the '55 Buicks that folks by the hundreds of thousands just won't do without? It's many things.

It's styling that's boldly distinctive and fresh as tomorrow. It's beauty of line and beauty of interior décor. It's a ride that's level, firm and steady. It's a new sweetness of handling. It's great power—walloping new V8 power of record might.

But above all, it's a new kind of performance, from a new kind of automatic transmission that was born of flight thinking.

It's Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—engineered from the principle of the modern plane's switch-pitch propeller—and what it brings you in the way of pure thrill, mere words can't describe.

Just you drop in on us this very week and try it. That way you can see what a terrific automobile—and a terrific buy—the hottest-selling Buick of all time really is.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

FRANKLIN HIGH GRADUATION WILL BE FRIDAY NIGHT

Glasgow Girl Now Living In Germany

GLASGOW — Mrs. Janet Baughman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heister of Glasgow, is now living near Kaiserslautern, Germany, with her husband, Cpl. William J. Baughman of Quincy. She left the states by plane from Springfield on Thursday, April 21, at 7:30 a.m. and arrived in Frankfurt at 9:50 a.m. Friday C.S.T. (4:50 p.m. Frankfurt time).

The plane was overdue 3 hours and 20 minutes. Such a fog was over Shannon, Ireland, that the plane had to circle the town an hour waiting for the fog to lift. Motor trouble was discovered in a plane they boarded in London and repairs had to be made.

Her first letter, written on board the plane, said that they were "cruising" at a speed of 340 miles per hour at an altitude of 15,000 feet between Boston, Mass., and Gander, Nova Scotia. She crossed on the Clipper Miles Standish. They arrived in Gander at 6:45 p.m. Thursday and left there at 7:30. It was 34 degrees and snowing. Lights were turned off for the night and they knew no more until the bright daylight awoke them after a restful night. (C.S.T. was 15 minutes till 1 o'clock). Thinking something must be wrong she asked a lady near by what time it was. It was 15 minutes till 7 Shannon time.

They took a bus to Frankfurt from the airport and a train to Kaiserslautern, arriving there at midnight.

Janet mails letters from Vogelweh and has some laundry done there.

They have to use German money most of the time. They have made several acquaintances and attended a carnival which she says is very much like our carnivals, having a ferris wheel and a roller coaster.

They are stationed within a few miles from where Royce Savage is stationed and they see him occasionally. They have gone on a tour together.

Glasgow Cemetery Picnic July 28

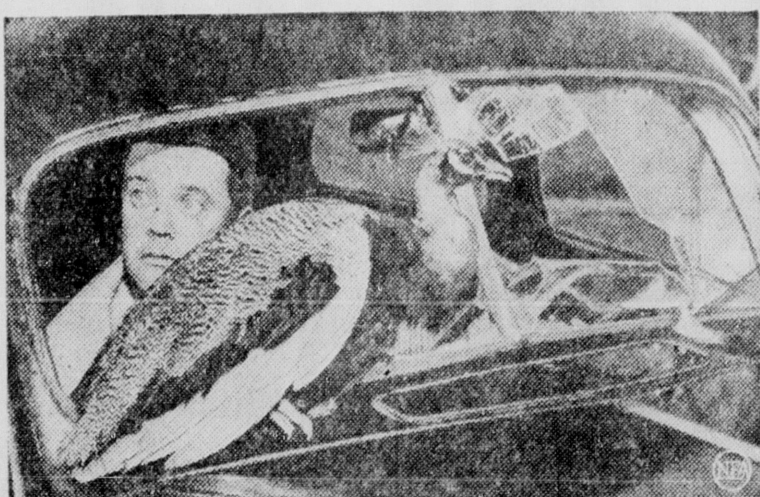

Thursday, July 28, has been chosen as the date for the Glasgow cemetery picnic.

Baptist Church Goes on D.S.T.

The Glasgow Baptist Sunday school and church services will start on D.S.T. next Sunday, May 29. Sunday school will be at 9:30 D.S.T. and church services at 10:30 D.S.T. There will be no evening services next Sunday but thereafter evening services will start at 7:30 D.S.T.

HERE'S AN ODD ONE—If it weren't for this photographic evidence, nobody would believe what happened to Robert Creagh of Memphis, Tenn. He ran into a peahen while driving in Memphis. Creagh was cut slightly, his windshield broken and the peahen was temporarily knocked out. Since no one knew where the bird came from, authorities told Creagh he could claim it, if he wanted to.

CAR WIRING DAMAGED

Cubs Do It Again -- Pollet Defeats Cards 3-0 In Six Hitter

CHICAGO (AP)—Howie Pollet, 33-year old southpaw, gained his No. 125 major league victory and the 25th shutout of his 13-year career by scattering six hits, all singles, in pacing the Chicago Cubs to a 3-0 win over the St. Louis Cardinals before 4,565 Thursday.

It was the win-happy second place's seventh win in the past eight games as well as their No. 13 conquest in 16 home games at

Jim Wilson Hurls Orioles To 2-0 Shutout Of Boston

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles made it three out of four in their series with Boston Thursday defeating the Red Sox 2-0. Pitcher Jim Wilson went all the way for the Orioles in allowing only four hits and helped his own cause by driving in a run.

Gene Stephens, who knocked two of the Boston hits, reached third with a two-out triple in the sixth, but Wilson bore down to retire Jackie Jensen on a fly to center. Lefty Lee Kiely was charged with the loss.

The Orioles jumped into a 1-0 lead in the first inning off Kiely as they collected four of their nine hits.

After Billy Goetz led off with a single, Bob Kennedy doubled him to third from where he scored on a single by Hot Evers.

The other Orioles run came in the seventh on Willie Miranda's leadoff triple and a single by Wilson.

Newcombe, Dodgers Defeat Pirates 6-2

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Big Don Newcombe of Brooklyn registered his seventh straight triumph without a loss Thursday by whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2 on six hits.

Newcombe helped his own cause in the four-run ninth inning with a two-run triple over the head of centerfielder Tom Saffell. He then stole home.

Newcombe walked two and struck out five in 45 previous innings the tall Negro right-hander walked only four men. Both walks by Newcombe came in the first inning but the Dodgers erased the runners on a double play.

Third sacker Gene Freese got the Pirates off to a 1-0 start in the second with a homer.

Ronnie Kline was the loser, absorbing his sixth loss against two wins. He was replaced in the ninth inning by Elroy Face.

Sandy Amoros led off the ninth with a double and tallied on a single by Carl Furillo—his third in four trips. Jackie Robinson followed with another single and Newcombe tripled to score Furillo and Robinson. Newcombe then stole home on Face.

Manager Walt Alton of the Wrigley Field.

Not a single Cardinal advanced as far as third base as Pollet became the 8th Chicago pitcher to go the route in the past 14 games.

Catcher Bill Sarni singled twice to get a third of the losers' half dozen hits as the Cardinals settled for just 12 safeties in three straight losses here. It was St. Louis' sixth loss in the past seven starts.

Besides Pollet, the Cubs had still another hero today. He is Bob Speake, the rookie first baseman who turned outfielder. Speake's two hits figured in both of the Chicago's spurt—a one-run first and a two-run third as starter Gordon Jones suffered his second loss.

Gene Baker and Speake singled in the first before walks to Ted Tappe and Ernie Banks forced Baker across.

Baker also singled to open the third, and rode across when Speake singled his No. 7 homer—drive for the right field screen on Jones' second serve.

WORKERS REPAIR STANDS AT PARK

A group of Recreation Club volunteers are pictured above at the first time in several years. The Jacksonville American Legion team plays its first game of the season in the afternoon of the 5th. The softball card for that night is incomplete but it has been assured two fine teams will provide the attraction.

Recreational Club Pony League chairman Harold Hills announced

all prospective Pony Leaguers will be at the park diamond June 2 at 6:30 p. m. to sign up for this summer's play. This includes the 13 and 14 year olds. All boys must bring birth certificates. On the following evening, Friday the 3rd, the Colt League registration will be held. All boys age 15 and 16 interested in playing Colt League ball are invited to show up and register at 6:30.

They too must have birth certificates.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Marty Blaylock hit an eleventh inning double with two on Thursday night to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 3-2 win over the New York Giants, the Phils' fourth straight over the world champions.

The Giants tied the ball game up with a pair of runs in the sixth. Alvin Dark led off with a double to left center and moved to third as Willie Mays singled. Monte Irvin's single scored Dark and sent Mays to third. Bob Miller took over from Bob Kuwana—making his first start since being acquired from the Baltimore Orioles—and got Don Mueller to fly out but Mays scored after the catch. Miller then stilled the rally by striking out Hank Thompson and getting Bobby Hofman to fly out.

The Phillies scored the first run in the initial inning as Richie Ashburn singled, went to third on a wild pitch by starter Ruben Gomez and scored on Glen Gorbous' flyout.

The second Phils run came across in the fourth. Bobby Morgall led off with a walk and scored on Ashburn's double to deep center.

Gomez hurt his hand sliding into third in the seventh after he singled and Davey Williams followed with another one base poke. Marty Grissom took over the New York mound chores at the start of Phils' seventh.

It was a deadlock until the Phils' half of the eleventh. Roy Smalley led off with a walk, reliever Bob Miller struck out and so did Ashburn. Then Glen Gorbous also walked and up came Blaylock to pound out a two-bagger to left field and that was the ball game.

Fort Wayne Open

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, who has never won a Major golf tourney, set the pace for some of the nation's top pros Thursday in the first round of the $15,000 Fort Wayne Open.

Finsterwald shot 11 pars and seven birdies for a seven-under-par 32-35 to take the first day lead in the tourney.

A stroke behind him with a 34-32-66 was George Bayer of Cincinnati, a 6-foot-5, 245-pound former pro football player noted in golf circles for long drives.

Tied for third with 67s at the end of the first 18 holes were Jerry Kesselring of Toronto, Ont., with a 31-36-67, and Bob Roseburg of San Francisco, 34-33-67.

This year's favorite, Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., couldn't do better than a 35-33-68, and defending titleholder Doug Ford of Klamath Lake, N. Y., had a disappointing 34-33-69.

Al Bessink of Grossinger, N. Y., shot a hole-in-one with a number eight iron.

The 72-hole tourney continues through Sunday at the 6,555-yard Elks Country Club course.

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

You won't know the Nichols Park softball park this year. Some dozen or so men were on hand Wednesday evening as work began on replacing the worn out boards in the grandstand. This is just part of the program under way to make the softball park better than ever this season. Tony Engels informed us he spent most of Sunday spreading 10 tons of sand around the field, filling in the low spots.

The grading has been completed and the outfield has been sowed with grass seed. A six-foot woven wire fence will enclose the field. We understand it will be some 300 feet down the left and right field foul lines and about 385 to dead center. The present lighting system has been repaired and tested. It will just be a matter of time until more lights are installed and the outfield poles are set back in order to permit night baseball.

The first softball attraction of the season is set for June 5. The Sunday's program is not completed as yet but it also calls for the local American Legion team to play in the afternoon. Several special attractions are listed for the park this summer. They include the Compton Cuties and the State Women's softball tourney. The Cuties will be here July 17 and the girls tourney is set for August.

A new boys baseball league will be organized this year. The Colt League will be added to the present Little and Pony League programs. The Colt loop is for boys in the 15 and 16 age group. Registration for this league will be held Friday, June 3 at 6:30 at the park according to Harold Hills, chairman. Hills also announced Thursday, June 2 as the date for Pony League registration. The 13 and 14 year olds will register at the same time, 6:30. All boys must bring along birth certificates.

All Recreation Club members have season tickets and fans may purchase them. The tickets cost one dollar and cover all pay nights but do not cover special attractions such as the Compton Cuties, etc.

According to latest word the park swimming pool opens Saturday at 1:00 p. m. The pool was filled last weekend. The water gets its first test today when the Jacksonville schools hold their annual picnic. Lets hope the cry is, "come on in the waters fine."

MONZA, Italy (AP)—Alberto Ascari, Italy's two-time world champion racing driver, was killed Thursday when his car overturned during a test run just five days after he had plunged into the sea in the European Grand Prix race.

Ascari, 36, was making his first attempt to drive since he was pulled out of Monte Carlo Harbor last Sunday. He had spent only a few days in a hospital after that accident.

Alberto Ascari achieved fame as a race driver after World War II.

Michigan Favored In Big 10 Outdoor Track Meet

BY JERRY LISKA

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Michigan's well-balanced squad—with likely points winners in 10 of the 14 events is favored to dethrone Illinois in the 5th Big Ten outdoor track and field meet Friday and Saturday.

The Wolverines, especially strong in the distance events, began a resurgence to track prominence earlier this year by winning the conference indoor crown.

Both Illinois and Michigan have won four straight during the long cinder path series.

Only one final is scheduled for Friday's program. The discus championship will be settled in preliminaries are held in the broadjump, 440, 100 and 220 dashes, and the 120 and 220 hurdles.

Finals in 13 events will be held at the Ohio State University Stadium Saturday.

A torrid 100-yard dash scrap is expected between Northwestern's Jim Golliday, who ran a world's record matching 9.3 in the Big Ten Relays two weeks ago, and Minnesota's Harry Nash, who handed Golliday his first defeat since 1952 in a triangular meet at Madison, Wis., last Saturday. Nash was clocked in 9.4.

Illinois has all except one of the four returning individual champions including ace hurdler Willard Thomson, last year's winner in both hurdles. The Illinois' Ralph Fessenden defends in the 440 and co-champion Dale Foster is back in the pole vault.

Mark Boothe of Michigan is back to defend his high jump title.

Michigan has the outdoor season's leading broadjumper in Tom Hendricks and top two-miler in Ron Wallingford, and has the best mile relay performance.

Big Ten faculty representatives and athletic directors, after a day of golfing at the Ohio State courses, will resume their spring business session Friday.

Most important items include a possible ruling on the ineligibility of two Indiana freshmen basketball stars, banned for one year by Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson for playing in an AAU tournament, and a study of distribution of football television receipts.

Carmelo Costa, Lulu Perez Fight Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaving the Dodgers to fight their own battles with the Giants, Carmelo Costa and Lulu Perez will stage their own battle of Brooklyn Friday night in Madison Square Garden.

Costa, only 21, probably will go into the ring an 8-5 choice over Perez in the 10-round match at 8 p. m. (CST). There will be the usual Friday night radio and television (NBC) coverage.

A year ago Perez, a high-ranked featherweight contender, was training for his bout with Percy Bassett, the winner to get a title shot at Sandy Saddler. Costa was just edging up to his first main event at Eastern Parkway against Baby Ortiz.

Bassett knocked out Perez. Costa whipped Ortiz and started his move into the ratings.

Indians Rally In 2nd Game To Nip Sox, Take Over Second Place

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's Indians lost their grip on second place for a short time Thursday but regained it by scoring six times in one inning and winning the second game of a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 10-9. The third place Sox won the opener, 3-1.

Bob Lemon, pinchhitting after being charged with the pitching loss in the opener, sided in the Tribe's winning run in the last of the eighth after Dave Philley doubled and was sacrificed to third.

Nellie Fox drove in four runs with his second and third homers as the Sox tied the second game at nine-all.

As the Tribe batted around in their big sixth inning, Vic Wertz doubled home three runs, Ralph Kiner singled in two more and Al Smith doubled in still another.

Sherm Lollar singled in Jim Rivera with Chicago's first run in the second.

In the third Vern Stephens homered for Chicago after Willard Marshall singled and Lollar walked.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond market climbed irregularly Thursday. Most obligations convertible into common stock were strong.

U. S. government bonds were steady to a trifle higher in slow over the counter dealings. The 40-year 3 1/2 rose 1/32 at 100 23-32 bid and victory loan 2 1/2 of 1967-72 advanced 2-32 at 96 26-32 bid.

"Big Board" volume increased to $3,900,000 par value from $3,810,000 Wednesday.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Strong demand for a wide range of issues Thursday sent the stock market ahead substantially.

Buyers focused their attention on stocks because of earnings reports, rumors of mergers, hopes for stock splits, a continued high level of business, and prospects of higher production and profits to come.

Steels and aluminum were strong throughout the day, as they were Wednesday and their gains were among the best.

Just before the close, the air-crafts came to life with a higher rush as recommendations were made in Washington for stepped up warplane production to meet defense needs.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.20 at $165.00. It was the third straight advance for the average which now stands only $3.00 away from the record peak touched April 26.

Volume expanded on the rise to 2,660,000 shares. That compares with 2,100,000 shares traded Wednesday and only 1,650,000 the previous day.

The American Stock Exchange was unchanged to higher on volume of 910,000 shares compared with 980,000 shares traded Thursday.

ALL GRAINS EXCEPT SOYBEANS DECLINE

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—All grains except soybeans declined on the Board of Trade Thursday with wheat and corn losing the most ground.

Wheat was the weakest cereal right from the start. Corn was a little lower early but didn't develop pronounced weakness until around midday. Oats and rye eased with wheat, although March rye held steady.

Wheat closed 1 1/2-2 1/4 lower, corn 1 1/2-2 1/4 lower, oats 1/4-1/2 lower, rye 1 cent lower to 1/4 higher, soybeans 1/2-1 1/2 higher and laid 5 to 12 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Selling in wheat was based almost entirely on the weather. Rains overnight and during the day covered a wide section of both the winter wheat and spring wheat areas. They calmed the growing apprehension over condition of the crop in the Northwest.

Action of soybeans was quite surprising to many traders. Reports from country points said producers were stepping up their sales of cash beans. In the cash market bean oil eased slightly and bean meal held unchanged at its year's low of $52.00 a ton.

Farmers have until Tuesday to redeem the soybeans they have impounded under the government loan. Inasmuch as the free market price still is above the loan rate, redemptions are expected to be heavy. Grainmen felt this would mean more pressure on the cash market.

Heavy Rain, High Wind Slug City; Interrupt Phone, Power Service

Heavy rain and high wind smashed at Jacksonville from the southwest about 1:50 (C.D.T.) yesterday afternoon, causing widespread damage to telephone and electric lines and cluttering the streets with fallen trees and branches. No injuries were reported.

The storm, part of a squall line which moved northeast across Illinois from near St. Louis to Chicago, spent its fury in about a quarter-hour.

The Illinois Telephone Company and the two power companies serving the city reported virtually all service restored by 9 p.m.

The storm built up over the city through the morning; by noon the overcast was dark and wind came in sharp gusts. Then the squall struck suddenly, and passed on in 15 or 20 minutes. A few drops of rain fell throughout the afternoon, but by supertime the air was still.

An electrical storm accompanied by torrential rain drenched the city again at 9:15, but the violent wind which caused most of the damage in the afternoon did not return.

Trees Cause Damage. Falling trees and branches blocked several city streets briefly, and caused damage to power and phone lines.

The Illinois Telephone Company reported most of its service restored at 9 p.m., but crews were still working in some parts of the city.

Radio station WJLS went abruptly off the air at 1:52, when a tree fell across the lines connecting the downtown studios with the transmitter. The power line fell atop the telephone line and burned it out, leaving the transmitter isolated and dark.

The station resumed broadcasting from the transmitter at 5:35, when power was restored. The lines connecting the transmitter with the studio were still down from Johnson street to Hardin avenue late last night, and station officials said they may be broadcasting from the transmitter today.

IPC Hit Hardest. The Illinois Power Company's lines suffered the heaviest damage—in one circuit in the north part of town, there were 15 breaks, and at least five poles had to be replaced—but by 9 p.m. IPC manager W. R. Hawkins could report all major lines in the city restored. Crews were still working on felled service lines to individual homes, and Hawkins said he expected complete service to be restored last night.

IPC rural lines were also badly hit. Hawkins reported rural service "partially out" at 9, and said that crews were still patrolling the lines to determine the extent of damage. N. J. Butler, superintendent of the City Water, Light and Power Department, reported all residential and commercial service restored by 8 p.m. He said the department was reluctant to turn on the street lights last night because wires which might cause injury were still down in places, but the lights would be on tonight.

"We were very fortunate," Butler said "in that we did not have any major interruption of service." All major circuits, he said, were back in action by 4 p.m.

Property Damage Light

Damage to property was generally light throughout the city—nothing like the destruction brought by a similar but more violent storm last summer. A tree fell on a car parked near the intersection of Clay and Morton avenues, causing in part of the roof, reported the owner, William Strube of RRS.

Smaller towns surrounding Jacksonville also felt the storm's violence. Power and telephone service was interrupted for several hours in most, but were largely restored by nightfall.

In Greenfield, the Mattie Driver residence, which was recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Athan Vineyard, was badly damaged by a tree when the storm struck from the southwest about 2 p.m. The Leo Jewett residence was also hit by a tree.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Chicago issued a warning at 9:30 p.m. that "there is a possibility that one or two tornadoes may reach into Pike" and several other counties near the Mississippi river. The general tornado warning for central Illinois was lifted earlier in the evening.

Dirksen Address To Be Filmed By CBS Here Friday

U. S. Senator Everett Dirksen's address at the annual meeting of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce Friday evening will be filmed by the Columbia Broadcasting System for TV presentation later, it was learned Thursday afternoon.

John G. Prickett, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, received a message from Chicago that a crew will be here Friday to film Senator Dirksen's arrival and his activities while in Jacksonville.

Prickett said reservations for the dinner meeting at the Masonic temple will be accepted up to noon Friday.

Witnesses Take Stand Thursday In $140,000 Suit

Trial of a $140,000 suit against the city of Springfield on behalf of a Jacksonville boy allegedly burned severely by an oil flare moved forward in Sangamon county circuit court at Springfield Thursday.

A jury was selected Wednesday and hearing of testimony began Thursday morning.

The suit was brought by Glen Woods of East Independence avenue in his own behalf and for his son, Orville Ray Woods. Damages of $125,000 are sought for the boy and his father asks $15,000.

In the suit, Woods alleges his son, then 7 years old, was critically burned on Oct. 10, 1953, while the Woods family was visiting relatives in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth St. and Allison Court at Springfield. An oil flare had been left to mark a trench, dug by the city and the child's clothing became ignited when the flare's cap came off and spilled burning oil on him, the suit alleges.

The city is charged with negligence in leaving the flare on the site.

The action originally asked $75,000 for Orville Ray Woods, but the amount was amended to $125,000 shortly before the trial started. The case is being heard by a jury of four men and eight women, before Judge DeWitt Crow.

Representing Woods and his son are Attorneys Maurice Keener, of Springfield, and Harry G. Story, of Jacksonville. Representing the city of Springfield are City Attorney Carl Meyer and assistant city attorneys John Sheehan and Nicholas Caccia.

Many services are being planned by Legion Posts in the Jacksonville area both on Memorial Day, Monday, May 30, and on Sunday, May 29.

American Legion Post 279 is in charge of the annual Memorial Day parade and ceremony to be held Monday, May 30. Business houses and stores will be closed for the day.

Darrell Berline and Fred R. Bailey are co-chairmen and parade marshals. The Jacksonville high school senior marching band will lead the procession which will also include both Boy and Girl Scouts, patriotic and civic organizations. Any group wishing to participate is asked to either contact the chairmen above or meet at the corner of Church

It's a king-sized luxury car—
Biggest at its price!

Pontiac is a big, roomy car with 122" or 124" wheelbase—longest in its price field, even longer than some models in the top price range—and with true big-car stability to match. For quality of fabrics, conveniences and appointments, Pontiac compares with the costliest cars.

It's America's topmost value—
Greatest buy of any year!

Pontiac is selling at the fastest rate of all time for this simple reason: America agrees—when you can get the size, power, beauty and luxury you want at Pontiac's easy price, that's the place to put your money. Come in and get all the facts.

It's a 200-horsepower performer—
Most powerful at its price!

As the only car with the Strato-Streak V-8, Pontiac has a big performance advantage. This newest and most efficient V-8 enables Pontiac to provide more power than any car has ever delivered at Pontiac's price—a full 200 h.p. with the 4-barrel carburetor, an extra cost option; 180 h.p. is standard.

It's a future-fashioned beauty—
Most distinctive at any price!

Style-conscious motorists turn to Pontiac for true mode-of-tomorrow design, beautifully different from any other car. Exclusive Vogue Two-Tone styling, Twin-Streaked hood and low, rakish lines give you a car that you know will remain a prideful possession for years to come.

You can buy a big, 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and for much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes—none of which equal Pontiac in combined power, size and future-fashioned beauty.

10 Nieces Honor Aunt With Party On 70th Birthday

JERSEYVILLE — Mrs. Proctor Langley of Jerseyville was honored at a party attended by ten of her nieces, given in celebration of her 70th birthday anniversary on May 20. Mrs. Maude Fritz and Mrs. Susie Wallace of Jerseyville were hostesses for the event which took place at the Wallace home.

The ten nieces of the honor guest present were Miss Mary Allen, Mrs. Viola Hanlin, Mrs. Edith Mae Brooks, Mrs. Edith Cone, Mrs. Maude Fritz, Mrs. Myra Boushka, Mrs. Stella Allen, Mrs. Clara Green, Mrs. Esther Mundy and Mrs. Susie Wallace, all of Jerseyville. Other guests included Mrs. Langley's sister, Mrs. Susie Snedeker of Roxana, Donald Brooks and Mrs. Freda Fritz of Jerseyville.

A birthday cake decorated with a large "70" centered the table where refreshments were served, and Mrs. Langley received many gifts for her anniversary.

ASHLAND

ASHLAND—Mrs. Bob Thompson and Miss Marietta Danenberger spent the weekend in Chillicothe with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Conkey. Ellen, Sue and R. G. Thompson, who had been visiting their grandparents, returned home with them.

Mrs. Grace Thompson and sister, Mrs. Tony Reiser, attended the wedding of their niece in Peoria last Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Young attended a sorority tea held at the Western State Teacher's college at Macomb on Sunday. Their daughter, Betty Ann, will graduate there in June.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clemons last Friday at St. John's hospital, Springfield.

SHADY NOOK IN THE KITCHEN — The tree that grew in Brooklyn could not have been more greatly appreciated than this one growing in the kitchen of a monastery in West Berlin, Germany. It's there because the nuns of the Order of The Good Shepherd refused to have it destroyed when the monastery was expanded 10 years ago. They built the kitchen around the tree. Kitchen helpers, like the one above, enjoy the chestnut tree's shade. Top of the tree grows through an opening in the roof.

Russell Ranes of Rantoul spent 44th birthday anniversary on Friday last Friday night and Saturday at the home of his brother, R. S. Ranes and family.

Mrs. Ada Walbaum was admitted to the Memorial hospital, Springfield, the latter part of last week as a medical patient.

The first boardwalk in Atlantic City, N.J., was erected in 1870 and was the first boardwalk in the world. Fred Hexter, Jr., celebrated his world.

Are you giving your children too many "empty" energy foods?

Food authorities say one-third of what children eat today is "empty energy" foods... foods "empty" of vital protein, vitamins and minerals found in the great protective foods... like energy-packed Sunbeam Bread.

"Empty" Energy foods make up 32% of America's food consumption of the food you eat is lost nutritionally

WITH 3 FOOD EXTRAS
ADDED
BUTTER

VITAMIN D

That's right, 32% of the foods you are eating now provide none of the vital minerals and vitamins. That means you are asking 68% of your foods to do a 100% job of nutrition.

By substituting Sunbeam Bread for some of these empty energy foods, you would enjoy just as much energy, but would get more of the nutritional basics you need every day at the same time.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
The British elections Thursday wind up a campaign which has been dull, with a Conservative victory generally expected from the start.

The Conservatives exercised the majority prerogative of picking its own time for the vote. They chose a period of prosperity rather than gamble that prosperity would last until the normal time for an election, next year.

They chose a period when the Labor party was going through a serious internal upheaval, due to the conflict between the Attlee moderates and the Bevanite left wingers.

They also chose a time when they could display regard for public confidence by seeking its approval of Anthony Eden's succession to Winston Churchill as prime minister.

They are gambling a year of their present term in office against a five-year extension.

Important issues in the campaign have been few and not well defined.

Eden knocked the critical props from under the Laborites so far as international affairs were concerned when he obtained United States agreement to a top-level Big Four conference on European settlements.

Many Laborites had depended upon criticism of the Anglo-American atom bomb program and the rearmament of Germany to appeal to the great mass of peace sentiment in the country. But the majority of the party, for the sake of national security, went along with the Conservatives in Parliament for manufacture of the atom bomb and ratification of the Paris accords, foreclosing the matters as campaign issues.

Labor is also handicapped by the fact that all the dire things they predicted in the 1951 elections, if the Conservatives won, have not happened. The Conservatives contended they had no intention of turning the clock back on the welfare state, but that they would not let it go overboard at the expense of the general economy. That, they said would produce prosperity. Whether it was produced or not, prosperity arrived.

Dolores Kirbach, Jos. Steinacher, Wed At Carrollton

CARROLLTON — Miss Dolores Kirbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Kirbach of this city became the bride of Joseph Steinacher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Steinacher, also of this city, Tuesday, May 24, at a double ring ceremony performed at 9 a.m. in St. John's Catholic church by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Michael Enright. The ceremony was followed by a high mass.

Mrs. Lawrence Thien of this city was the organist for the Mass and the accompanist for the vocal soloists who were Clarence Kirbach of this city, who sang during the Mass, and Miss Arbedella Kallal of Jacksonville, who sang "Ave Maria," "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," "Mother at Your Feet I'm Kneeling" and "Pans Angelicus."

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

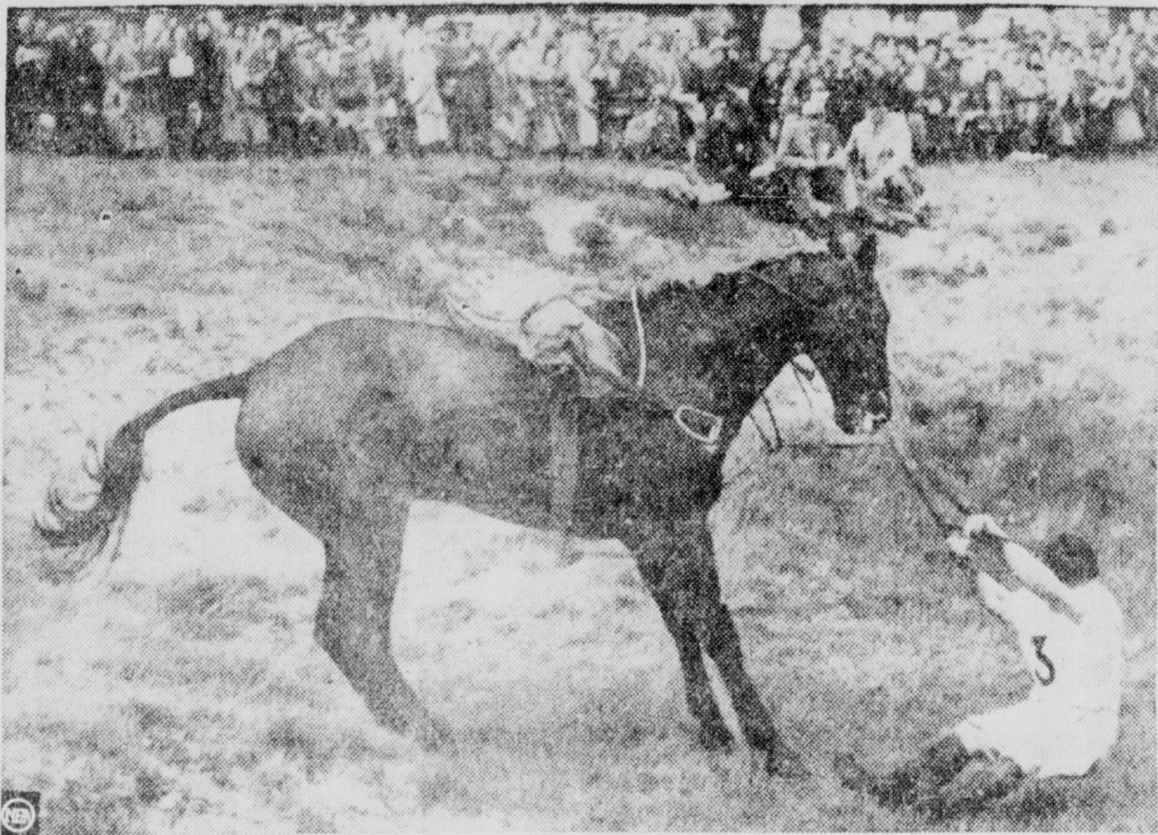

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exercising or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Dean's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Dean's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Dean's Pills today!

The members of the bridal party were Miss Alice Kirbach of this city, cousin of the bride, maid of honor; Miss Berniece Pranger and Miss Dorothy Schnettgoecke, this city, bridesmaids. The flower girl was Carlotta Steinacher, niece of the groom; best man, Jerome Steinacher, twin brother of the groom and groomsmen, John Steinacher and Robert Steinacher, brothers of the groom. The ring bearer was Andrew Scribner and the ushers were Benjamin Lake and Martin Schnettgoecke, this city.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of embroidered nylon tulle over white satin with a sweeping cascade of tulle flounces in back extending into a cathedral train. The gown was fashioned with a snug fitting bodice, high neckline and long pointed sleeves fastened at the wrist with tiny lace buttons. Her finger tip veil fell from a pearl encrusted crown and she carried a white prayer book with a white orchid.

Identical floor length dresses of coral were worn by the maid of honor, the bridesmaids and the flower girl. The bouffant skirts were set over taffeta worn over hoops. The strapless dresses were complimented with jackets of embroidered lace. Each carried a colonial bouquet of blue and white carnations.

A wedding breakfast was served at 11:30 at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinacher, and a reception was held from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Steinacher entertained their friends at a dance Tuesday evening in the Knights of Columbus hall to the music of Bow-en's orchestra.

Mrs. Steinacher is a graduate of St. John's High School and is employed as a telephone operator in the local office of the Illinois Telephone Company.

Steinacher is also a graduate of St. John's High school and is a World War II veteran having served four years in the U. S. Air Force and two years in the U. S. Army.

Since his return from serving in the armed forces he has engaged in farming.

THANA AND A JUTS LAY TO BILL HUMPHREY DETROIT LAKES

Death Has 3 Lives by Brett Halliday

THE STORY: Frightened by the threats of Jack Bristow, a wounded man hiding in her apartment, Lucy Hamilton, secretary and girl friend of Private Detective Michael Shayne, does not tell her boss about the intruder when he calls. Then a policeman knocks at the door and wants to search the apartment for a fugitive.

IV

THE policeman jerked to an astonished halt when he was suddenly confronted by the blazing eyes and jutted jaw of Shayne instead of a shrinking female, and heard a harsh voice demanding:

"What do you mean by pushing into a private place and insulting a decent woman?"

"Can it, friend." Taken aback and on the defensive, the policeman adopted a blustering tone and made the mistake of reaching for his stick. "Keep your yap shut before I run you in for..."

Balanced lightly on the balls of his feet, Shayne hit him full in the mouth. Lucy moaned faintly and covered her face with her hands as she saw Shayne's fist drive forward and upward with the weight of his body behind it.

The officious cop staggered back and caught his heel on the threshold and went over backward in the hall with flailing arms. Shayne stalked grimly into the doorway and confronted a sergeant who came running from another room at the sound of the affray. The sergeant stopped with mouth agape when he saw and recognized Shayne. He said sharply, "What's this? Get up from the floor and start talking, Morrison."

Morrison got to his feet slowly, his beefy face as scarlet with rage as the blood trickling from his mouth. "That must be him, Sarge." His hand went to his holster. "Jumped me from behind the door and slugged me with brass knucks or something."

The sergeant snorted contemptuously and lunged forward to grab the half-drawn gun while Shayne lounged against the door frame and watched the tableau, his features stony and controlled.

"Get back, you fool," ordered the sergeant. "That's Mike Shayne. If he had used knucks you wouldn't have any teeth left. Get down the hall with Langley and I'll handle this."

MENTION of Shayne's name changed the patrolman's surly attitude to one of abashed deference, for it was commonly known in Miami that the private detective and Chief of Police Gentry were close friends. After he slunk away, the sergeant asked Shayne, "What did the big-mouthed ape do to ask for what he got?"

"Barged into my secretary's apartment and insulted her," Shayne told him coldly. "What's this all about?"

"We're hunting a killer. Slightly built young fellow. I didn't know that was Miss Hamilton's apartment," the sergeant went on defensively. "You know how it is when you're trying to work fast. Don't mind if I take a look around, do you?"

"I mind plenty," Shayne told him coldly. "Miss Hamilton tried to tell you man there was no one here. Now, I'm telling you that she isn't hiding anyone in her bedroom. That good enough or do I have to call Will Gentry?"

"That's plenty good for me," the sergeant assured him hastily. He turned back to the others who were emerging from the other apartments empty-handed, and Shayne stepped back to slam the door shut violently.

Lucy was huddled back on the divan and she watched Shayne with frightened eyes as he stalked back to pick up his drink.

"Who are they looking for, Michael?"

"Some punk they were tipped off was hiding here," Shayne's voice grated unnaturally. He shook his head and lowered the cognac in his glass before setting it down. "My temper," he muttered disgustedly. "Going to get me in trouble some time." He grinned down at Lucy with an effort and touched the tendrils of brown hair at the nape of her neck with his finger tips. "I guess maybe I do like you a lot, Angel. Something went all over me when that lout said what he did. I'm sorry."

"I'm not," Lucy told him sturdily. "I'm glad. But," she added faintly, "I have to tell you something, Michael."

"Okay. Tell it." He waited quizzically.

"It... it all happened so fast," Lucy said faintly. "I hadn't time to think. I didn't really mean to tell a lie, Michael."

"WHAT are you talking about?" His grin changed to a frown of perplexity.

"The man. He is in my bedroom, Michael."

It took the space of 20 seconds for her words fully to penetrate into Shayne's consciousness. He got to his feet slowly and Lucy could not meet his gaze.

"Do you mean that, Lucy? You let me lie to the sergeant? Use my reputation and friendship with Gentry to refuse them entry while you were hiding their man all the time?"

Lucy nodded without looking up. Tears were streaming from her eyes. She winced as though from a blow with each word Shayne spoke. There was a brief silence and still she did not dare look up. Then the sound of Shayne's heels striking hard on the floor as he strode to the outer door and jerked it open. She sat with bowed head and listened dreadingly to the sound of him taking the stairs to the bottom three at a time.

IT ROLLS ON "PILLOWS"—This odd-looking vehicle is a "Teracruzer"—an experimental cargo carrier that rolls along on eight low-pressure air pillows which conform to the ground instead of resisting it, as ordinary tires do. It's the first vehicle built to use this type of tire, which eliminates bumps and the need for springs. Tire bags are three and a half feet in diameter, five feet long and are inflated with only three to five pounds of air pressure per square inch. The Teracruzer is 12 feet long, 25 feet wide and 10 feet high. Bubble on top of cab provides greater visibility for the navigator, who will accompany the driver on long hauls in arctic regions. Army Ordnance Corps helped develop the vehicle, built by Four Wheel Drive Auto Company. It's shown above in Clintonville, Wis.
